The Ghost Seer.

A STORY OF THE [illegible]

It was in the Mohammedan fast-month of [illegible], which that year occurred in early winter, when December [illegible] which is expected to be this [illegible] ... [illegible] ... by playing backgammon with the friends of [illegible] evening at position and [illegible] ... When [illegible] a house had to be closed [illegible] midnight, they were the last to leave. [illegible] ... to meet early by the first dawn at the public bath close by, and afterwards to go out together into town upon some business which they had arranged in common. They then separated. Osman went home and [illegible], intending to be up before daylight and join his friend at the bath.

But in the middle of his sleep he was suddenly awakened by a sharp knocking at the door. Getting up quickly, and opening it to see what was the matter, he [illegible] standing outside what he supposed to be his companion of the evening before, with a lantern in his hand. [illegible] ... "What! has he brought you here so early?" he asked, "It is not yet near morning." "How so?" replied the other, "the dawn has already broken [illegible] ... If we do not make haste we shall find the bath crowded with people, and may ever so long to wait for our turn. Besides, the [illegible] ... Get your things on and come." [illegible] ... Osman supposed that he must have overslept himself, and was really behind time. So he [illegible] quickly back [illegible], dressed himself, and came out. His friend was still waiting for him, lantern in hand, at the door.

No one else was up and stirring as they passed along the narrow lanes, now doubly dark [illegible] ... on the little open space close by the coffee house where Osman had spent the evening, [illegible] ... the bath they were going to. [illegible] ... the last of [illegible] within the limits of the old fortified town.

Here they stopped to breathe [illegible] ... Osman looked [illegible] there was no hint of dawn [illegible] ... "How far is it yet?" he exclaimed. "Not so very far off, nor so very high, neither," said the other, in a strange voice. [illegible] ... [illegible] ...

[illegible] ... [illegible] ... where he had been. He gave some evasive answer, and then lay quiet, pretending to go to sleep, and wishing for the next day.

Only a few minutes later [illegible] ... rap it came to the door [illegible]. Osman [illegible] ... [illegible] ... "Who are you?" asked Osman. The [illegible] stared. "Why, do you not know me?" [illegible] ... "Were we not playing backgammon together last evening, and did we not agree to go together to the bath this morning? Come along, or we shall be late. The day is breaking." [illegible] ... [illegible] ...

But as they had gone [illegible] ... [illegible] ... trick, [illegible] ... [illegible] ... he had not been deceived.

They passed the open place, the plane tree, and reached the bath. To their surprise, Osman's at least, its door stood wide open, and the entrance hall was fully lighted up; yet no one appeared to be moving within. The head bath-keeper's accustomed place was empty, no valet or attendants came forward to meet them. But the bathing wrappers, towels, and other requisites were all ready put out, some hanging up, some folded in their proper places, everything was evidently arranged and fit for use. "They must have got the bath in order, and then, finding that nobody came, have turned in again for a nap," said Osman's companion. "And, till some one awakes, we had best change our dress, and make ourselves comfortable, for the meantime, in the heating room."

Osman agreed and the two changed their out of doors dress for the costume ordinary in an Eastern bath, consisting of two toga-like wrappers, and went into the [illegible] ted inner room, which was all lighted up and ready warmed. Here they lay down on the raised stone dais against the wall with a dome-like roof some twenty-five feet overhead, and the lamp hanging down from it in the centre.

While they thus reclined at ease, waiting till either a servant or some early bather like themselves should come, Osman, who had now no doubt left in his mind as to the real and bodily identity of his companion, could not resist the temptation of recounting to him the previous adventure of the night. So he told him he had been awakened and beguiled out of doors by a phantom exactly resembling in shape and voice the friend now beside him, and how they had almost arrived at the bath, when the specter betrayed itself for what it really was by the portentous feat already described. The other listened without interrupting the story in apparent astonishment, till at last the narrator concluded. "So," he subjoined, "it hung the lantern it was carrying on the top of the big minaret, did it? Do you think he could have managed this?" and with these words he [illegible] feet, which suddenly lengthened [illegible] just as the [illegible] had done before, and [illegible] the very highest point of the central [illegible] above them on to the [illegible] where it hung.

Osman kept [illegible] as well he might, [illegible] found himself alone in pitch darkness, for every light in the bath had been [illegible] ... However, as he [illegible] in the building before, and was [illegible] well acquainted with it, he managed, in spite of his tribulation, to find his way to the door, [illegible] ... [illegible] ... to search after [illegible] him in the entrance room.

[illegible] ... the open space between [illegible] and the bath he looked back [illegible] ... the [illegible] distant [illegible] ... within the fortress once [illegible] by the spectral lantern [illegible] ... Cold and trembling, he got back to his own house. There he [illegible] ... and [illegible] until the [illegible] woke her to say him [illegible] ... told her all that had happened to him from first to last, and adding, that when the day [illegible] up he would return to the bath [illegible] his clothes from where he had left them.

[illegible] had he finished his narration when [illegible] the same rap that he had twice heard before was [illegible] ... Osman's wife, naturally [illegible] her husband to pay no attention to it. But like Tam o' Shanter in a similar case, he would not take advice.

But [illegible], Osman, who was by no [illegible] ... was now [illegible] that he would see the matter [illegible] ... the dawn [illegible] ... it could hardly be a [illegible] this time. So he got up, [illegible] as he still was, to [illegible] and opened it. Sure enough, there [illegible] his friend, or what seemed his friend, [illegible] "What is the matter with you, [illegible] that you stare so wildly at me? And how came you in such a [illegible]?"

"My own wearing clothes are at the bath," [illegible] Osman, and forthwith proceeded to give an account of all that he had seen that [illegible] ... he had been twice spectre [illegible] to himself, "If this [illegible] like the others, [illegible] to show its true [illegible] before we go further." [illegible] ... hearing all this, expressed [illegible] astonishment. "Me," he said; "why I have only this minute left my house, [illegible] myself to the bath, [illegible] I might as well [illegible] the chance of calling [illegible] ... might not be awake already. You must have been dreaming [illegible] ... Anyway let us now go at once [illegible] for your clothes, where you have left them, [illegible] may come in the [illegible] to them.

[illegible] Osman felt sure that the [illegible] was his own [illegible] and no [illegible] ... they [illegible] together before [illegible] ... door was [illegible] ... building [illegible] neither bath-keeper at the [illegible] living creature. Osman went [illegible] where he had first [illegible] ... found his clothes lying [illegible] exactly as he had left them. His first impulse was to put [illegible] ... his friend suggested [illegible] the bath was already heated [illegible] make use of it, so the [illegible] inner room, there to wait [illegible] attendants should enter on [illegible].

[illegible] and [illegible], no one came. But [illegible] a noise like that of a crowd was heard proceeding from one of the [illegible] recesses of the hall. Osman [illegible] but saw nothing; then [illegible] his head back [illegible] towards his [illegible] ... his face was [illegible] and his stature gigantic.

And now from the [illegible] whence the [illegible] ... a long procession of [illegible] men, women, [illegible] ... came, [illegible] ... [illegible] ... they swarmed [illegible] ... they clamored, they [illegible] ... [illegible] ... gallery of the old [illegible] ... vanished into nothing. [illegible] went [illegible] out, and Osman [illegible] in the darkness, fell faint [illegible] stone pavement of the floor.

[illegible] he remained [illegible] he was thus found [illegible] entered at daylight, [illegible] still insensible. [illegible] ... [illegible] ... hours, even he [illegible] ... his spectral [illegible] ... As evening approached, however [illegible] ... days he was [illegible] ... had passed, it [illegible] ... impaired in [illegible] ... His friend, whose semblance the [illegible] had thrice assumed, had never, as they afterwards found, left his house during the fatal night, nor even till the following morning.

No one who has visited Europe will fail to appreciate the following. A prominent Boston gentleman, a proprietor of one of the leading Boston Dailies, had just arrived in the steamer from Europe, and met with a New York friend, while registering his name in the office of the Grand Central Hotel. The New Yorker evidently expects to hear the usual glowing tale of those fresh from [illegible], and he [illegible] thus, "Hallo, Charley! Glad to see you back! How-d'you enjoy yourself, old fellow? Have a good time?" "Good time," grumbled Charley. "I'm so glad to get back, I can't tell! I've had nothing [illegible] since I've been away. Prunes and [illegible] wine, prunes and sour wine again. Sick as a dog, at that! London bloody beef and cold mutton, ale and fog. Paris—Sour wines and fancy [illegible], Germany, etc., bitter beer, sour wine, and Heaven knows what in the dishes. Taverns, candles, and paid service everywhere. Not a first class sensible hotel like this anywhere, to say nothing of the price. Thank the Lord I'm home again!" "But the steamer? the ocean?" suggested Charley's friend. "Prunes and sour wine I tell you," cried Charley. "Let's go up stairs and get something to eat." And they disappeared in the elevator to the evident amusement, not to say gratification, of mine host Powers and of a number of other gentlemen who had thus heard European and American hotels so summarily and truthfully criticised and the Grand Central "brought to the front" in such few words.

A miniature signal-service station will be one of the objects of interest at the Cincinnati exhibition. In addition to the barometers, thermometers, anemometers and other meters, there is a printing office, in which the "synopsis" and "probabilities," fresh from the telegraph, will be set up and struck off for distribution to the visitors.

Newport Daily News.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 15, 1873.

Our friends will confer a favor, by sending us facts of any matter of local interest which may come to their knowledge.

Correspondence concerning matters of public interest will be inserted, but we do not hold ourselves responsible for opinions expressed in such communications. All manuscript must be accompanied by the name and address of the writer.

Some of our citizens who go for a mistake like a hawk at a June bug, and who scent corruption with the acuteness of a turkey buzzard, have discovered in the detail estimate of the Lawton Valley plan described in Mr. Bishop's water report that twelve acres of land are entered at $3.00 an acre. A friend of ours has expressed a willingness to take all the land on the island that can be got at $3.00 an acre. Some have even suggested corruption; an attempt to deceive the public by making the estimates improperly low. But while these gentlemen are immense on notation their addition is defective. The most casual glance shows that there is something wrong with the addition. There is a column of six items of which the land item is the only one with digits in the units and tens places, and yet there are no digits in the units and tens places of the sum, which is $20300. Adding up these six items one discovers that there is no intent to deceive, and the mistake is all the printers' fault, for the sum added is not $36.00, but $3600.00, just what it should be. The typographical error does not alter the total in the least.

WOMAN'S REPRESENTATION.

Thirty tax paying ladies of San Francisco have formed an association whose bond of union is an agreement not to pay taxes because they are not represented in the government. It is a pity that intelligent women cannot learn that the laws of this country as understood by the Supreme Court of the United States and all subordinate tribunals do not recognize the right of females to vote. The proper thing for these thirty women to do is not to resist the law but to change it when they can; till then to submit. The only result of their refusal to pay taxes will be the sale by the sheriff of their property.

"Taxation without representation" is one of those fine sounding phrases that go so far with people who do not stop to think what they mean. It is what our forefathers died in resisting, and why should not these thirty wealthy females of the Golden City resist it? Representation and the right of suffrage are two different things. A child a year old is taxed but he can't vote. Is that taxation without representation? It is no answer to say that this infant boy will vote by and by and the woman never will. The fact that the child will vote some time does not amount to a representation of him. He is taxed and he is not allowed to vote. One who cannot vote for the next score of years may yet be taxed as regularly as one who has voted for the last half century. Is this wronging the child? Ought the estates of minors to be untaxed?

Our ancestors refused to be taxed as long as they had no voice in the government because those who did the ruling were inimical to them. The interests of the British nation and of the American colonists were radically different. It would then be manifestly unjust for the former to govern the latter. The interests of the North and the South are diverse, and it would therefore be very unjust to either to be debarred from its due share of Congressional influence.

The interests of the Western farmer and of the New England manufacturer are unlike. A government chosen by one section of the country would not represent the other, and to tax that other for the maintenance of such a government, or even to make that other section obey such a government would be a gross injustice. The interests of the white man and the black man are unlike. A government of the one would be unjust to the other, and which ever party was disfranchised would be decidedly unrepresented.

But the interests of man and woman are not thus opposed to each other. They are no more opposed to each other than are the interests of adults and minors. One is not trying to get rich from the labor of the other, nor is one seeking to keep the other in a state of social inferiority. All the interests of women are represented by men, and so women are represented in the government. Men are not trying to suppress or injure women. On the contrary legislatures composed entirely of men are fast removing from women all the disabilities they have been laboring under for so many years.

Men only used to have their attention called to the unjust discriminations of the common law to remove them. Not only can a married woman hold property in nearly if not quite all of our states, but in many of them she may form a business partnership with her husband or with another man. She is not responsible for her husband's debts though he is for hers. She has all the faculties for obtaining an academic or a professional education. The law allows her to exhort from the pulpit, demonstrate over the dissecting table or quote Blackstone at bar. She may do, and does, banking, manufacturing and mercantile business. She may do, and does, edit newspapers, write books, act as live stock reporter and other things that a man can do. These privileges or rights have been accorded to her by the tyrant man who needed only to be reminded of a wrong to correct it. Is not woman represented in the government? Certainly she is; most efficiently represented by men who will never see one of her rights or privileges diminished. She holds lucrative offices under the government in which she thinks she is not represented, and still she is not happy because she can't vote. That boon that unappreciative man often tires of, and neglects to employ, is the one thing that she must have. To all the other fruits in the political and social garden she has an acknowledged right, but this luscious apple, the privilege of voting, is withheld from her, and for it she would give all the rest.

SEASONINGS.

Willis Shelton, a young amateur organist, well known in musical circles, has returned to Saratoga, and is stopping at the Grand. He will give a Musical Recital in the Methodist church.

Gen. John C. Breckenridge, of Kentucky, Vice President of the late Southern Confederacy, is making a visit to Saratoga. He is in favor of the "Union" now, and stops with Breslin & Co.,

Mrs. Smith, of Hatfield, Mass., is passing the summer at Congress Hall. Mrs. S. is an old habitue of Saratoga, this being her fiftieth annual consecutive visit to that watering place.

The Regatta Committee of the Rowing Association have secured accommodations at Saratoga Lake for the crews expected to participate in the September regatta, and those coming first will have choice of position.

W. H. Burt, postmaster of Boston, Mass., is sojourning at Saratoga.

"Shirley Dare," of the New York World, arrived in Saratoga on Saturday. She is living very quietly at the Vermont House, and is engaged in doing up a book soon to be issued by the Harpers. [Saratogian.

As an index of the number of persons in town in comparison with last year we state the fact that on Monday last, the 11th of August, 6,023 letters were mailed at the Saratoga post-office against 4636 on the same date last season.

NEWS ITEMS.

Boston uses about 5,000 gallons of soda water on a hot day.

There is a man in Troy who has done business about one year without expending a dollar in advertising. He has at last consented to commence advertising. His first advertisement was headed "Sheriff's sale."

By a statute of last winter it is made the imperative duty of the County Commissioners, when requested by the authorities of at least three of the cities of a county, to erect a building and establish therein a school for truants. The cities of Fall River and New Bedford have made such request, and the city of Taunton will unite with them in doing so, if, indeed, it has not already taken such action. The Commissioners, of course, have no choice but to proceed at once to fix upon a site and establish a truant school. [New Bedford Mercury.

It is argued that there will not be the same monetary stringency this fall that was felt last year and one or two years before, because the balance of trade against us is much smaller this year, our imports having declined and our exports largely increased.

The new game of "chivalrie" is quite popular among fashionable people at the watering places, and may in time rival and supersede croquet.

It is said that the members of the Right propose to proclaim Count Chambord King of France if he will accept a constitution to be presented to him; if not, the republic will be definitely established.

The Brooklyn Trust Company requests its stockholders to pay their subscription of 50 per cent. on or before the 25th instant. Very few of the depositors have drawn their money, and quite a number of new accounts have been opened.

The traditional lack of gallantry in brothers finds its latest exemplification in the case of a Maine sub-freshman, who passed the entrance examination to Colby University, at Waterville, but on discovering that his sister proposed also to join the new class there, forthwith betook himself to Bowdoin College, at Brunswick, where no sisters are admitted.

The German government has decided to reduce for three years and then to abolish altogether the import duty on iron.

A Denver paper says a hundred jurymen could be selected there any day in twenty minutes, for any case, at any price.

The proposed new constitution of Pennsylvania covers sixty large printed pages, being five times as large as the old one.

Hon. G. H. Whalley, member of the British Parliament from Peterboro', is in town to-day looking for evidence in behalf of the Tichborne claimant, for whom he is counsel in court. He was looking particularly for evidence in regard to the bark Osprey, of this port, the claimant alleging that he was rescued from shipwreck and taken to Australia on an American vessel of that name, and to look up a sailor named Carl Anderson, an important witness. But we hear he found nothing. He says that the claimant's case has been very much misrepresented in this country. He leaves town this afternoon. [New Bedford Standard.

The strict enforcement of the Massachusetts liquor law cannot fail to result in a conflict between the Federal and certain State authorities. The seizure by the state government of articles upon which the manufacturers have paid a tax to the Government puts the Internal Revenue Department in an awkward position. This department has enforced the tax upon all manufacturers and dealers in malt or fermented liquors, and yet a state law attempts to set aside all that. It is certain that the whole question will be brought to the attention of Congress next winter, for not only manufacturers of, but dealers in malt or fermented liquor, who are compelled by Federal authority to pay a tax, but who by State enactment have been compelled to relinquish their business, will apply to Congress for relief and for a refunding of the money paid. ......It is the opinion of both the Herald and the Journal of Salt Lake City, pretty plainly expressed, that the divorce suit brought against Brigham Young by his wife No. 17 is a mere blackmailing operation.

......During the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher's stay at the Twin Mountain House, N. H., special trains will be run on Sunday from Plymouth and Lancaster to accommodate those who wish to hear him preach.

STATE MISCELLANY.

Nelson Chase, Esq., who figured as defendant in the celebrated Jumel will case has caught at Narragansett Pier a sea bass weighing fifty-five and one half pounds, the heaviest weight on record.

A steam pile driver is engaged in driving piling at the water front in the rear of the Brick Mill Corporation's property, on Main street in Westerly, as the foundation for a dye and picker house soon to be erected.

The railroad bridge at Riverpoint has received its last timber, and the many travellers over this road can once more breathe freely as they pass to and fro over it.

LARGE FOWLS. - Persons desirous of obtaining large fowls, equally good as layers of large eggs, also combining good table qualities with early maturity and being perfectly hardy, should cross the Dorking hen with a small Brahma cock. The cross between the Dorkings and dark Brahmas is also good for the table, being also easily raised, but their eggs are small.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Senator Harlan is at the Ocean House.

- Very heavy mails are arriving at the post office at present.

- A new shoe store will be opened on the Parade in a few days.

- Tom Thumb, returned to the Perry House yesterday.

- Owing to the storm, the knights of St. Patrick did not go to Rocky Point yesterday.

- Mr. P. W. Andrews is occupying his new villa at Coddington Point.

- The present week has been a brilliant one, socially, for Newport.

Music at the fort this afternoon as per programme published in yesterday's issue.

- The letter boxes are not convenient for wet weather, especially when one has an umbrella and an arm full of packages.

Miss Helen Temple appears in her role of Mercy Merrick in the New Magdalen at the Opera House Monday evening next.

- The entertainment Tuesday night for the benefit of the family of the late Prof. Ludwig Frank netted $1200.

- Mrs. Wm. C. Gibbs, formerly of this city, died yesterday, at the residence of her son, in San Francisco.

- Jere McCarty was found drunk in his express wagon last evening, by the police and taken in charge of for the night.

- The steamer Jane Moseley is receiving a fair share of the travel between here and New York.

- We learn that James H. Clarke, has just sold the Hammett estate on Thames street to George A. Richmond.

- The expenses of the Fire Department for their services in replenishing cisterns, are about $1,000 which will be divided among those who were benefited.

The cisterns, generally are well supplied with water from the recent rain, but we trust it will have no unfavorable result on the voting upon the water question next Wednesday.

- Considerable of a row occurred at a "concert saloon," which Newport is favored with, on Thames street, yesterday. The proprietor and one of his customers got into a dispute about paying for the drinks, the latter not having sufficient to pay for the same, after treating a number of his chums. The result was what might be expected, and we learn that several affrays have occurred here of late. No arrests have been made as yet.

Miss Vaughan's Lecture.

The many whom the weather or insufficient notice kept from hearing Miss Vaughan's lecture yesterday missed a rich and rare feast of ear and mind. The story and specimens of the two great Epic poems of India were recited in a most felicitous and impressive manner, and the characterizations and comments displayed a fine appreciation of spiritual as well as historic truth. We are glad to hear that the many disappointed absent ones are still to have the opportunity of hearing so gifted and eloquent a speaker on so brilliant and instructive a theme.

A HEARER.

JUSTICE COURT. - Martin Feeney, Stephen McKuna and James Regan were arraigned upon a joint complaint, for larceny from the person. McKuna pleaded guilty and his sentence was continued until Tuesday next. Feeney and Regan pleaded not guilty, and the hearing in their case was continued to Tuesday.

Newport in September.

To those who seek it, there is a charm in Newport beyond its fashion. The Ocean House is closed. The gay pagoda, where the band played a week ago, is silent. The great halls and piazzas, then thronged with gay promenaders, are shut and deserted. No six-in-hand now dashes along Bellevue. The Turk, with his toys from Constantinople, has gone; the fashion shops have hurried back to Broadway; but Newport is lovelier far than when all the denizens of Babylon were here. The cottagers remain; and the cottages, their flowers, their velvet lawns, their hammocks swinging toward the sea. Redwood Library—that perfect bijou of a library—is still here, and more enticing than ever. One may sit in an easy-chair and read almost any newspaper or review ad libitum. You may look at the "Dying Tecumseh;" or if you don't want to, at "Venus of Milo" and "Apollo belvidere." The fashion has gone; but the ocean remains, and the perfect days. There is a softer iterance in its call then ever came to us in summer. A light rests upon its waves and on its shores which no language can interpret or transfigure. Along the roadside crowds of asters look up at us through their purple eyes, while all around them every knoll and meadow flames with golden-rod. In the tree-tops the miracles of color have begun. Autumn, in her first ecstacy, has decked herself as for a carnival in yellow and scarlet. From its floods the Island has emerged as radiantly green as when June was born. All around it run the opal lines of the ocean; all over it bends the intense blue of the heavens, flecked with the ever-changing splendor of the sailing clouds. Within, enthroned are these superlative days, "Mediterranean days," whose golden airs flow over you and through you, full of the softness without the languor of the South. [Our Ways of Men, Women and Things, by Mary Clemmer Ames.

The following is a list of the buildings in course of erection under Supervising Architect Mullett: Custom-houses and post offices united in one building; in Chicago, St. Paul New Orleans, Port Huron, Mich., Portland, Or., St. Louis, and Rockland, Me. Court houses and post offices in one building in New York, Hartford, Omaha, Columbia, S. C., Trenton, N. J., Parkersburg, W. Va., and Philadelphia. Besides these there are building a custom house at Charleston, S. C., a jail at Washington, a War and Navy Department building at Washington, a post office and sub-treasury building at Boston, and a post office at Dover, Del. These are all to be finely built structures. Several of them will be of enormous size, and their cost of corresponding magnitude. The war and navy building will cost $8,000,000; the New York court house and post office, $6,000,000; the Boston post office and St. Louis custom house and post office, $4,000,000 each; the Philadelphia post office and court house and the New Orleans custom house, $3,000,000 each; the Charleston custom house, $2,500,000; the Chicago custom house, $5,000,000.

FATTENING HOGS—MAINTAINING THEIR APPETITE.—It not unfrequently happens that hogs put up to fatten show a loss of appetite for weeks at a time, eating but little and wasting a good deal. Well known English farmers, who have encountered this difficulty more or less, in addition to positive disease, after many experiments, have prepared a compound which they state has been very effectual. The following are its ingredients and the proportions: Twenty pounds finely-sifted coal ashes, four pounds common salt, one pound superphosphate of lime. They are duly mixed and put into a trough where the hogs can have free access to them at all times. In a case where three pigs were troubled with swellings and difficulty of breathing, they consumed nine pounds of this mixture during the first fortnight, six pounds the second and nine again during the third. The expense of the material is very light. Those who have occasion to test the prescription would confer a favor on others by reporting the result.

Ike Bosworth, the city editor of the Troy Whig, had a severe attack of cholera morbus in Saratoga, on Saturday. After taking a dozen ordinary doses of various "ingredi-ences," on as many recommendations from Tom, Dick and Harry, he got mad, entered a drug store, and, taking up a soda-water tumbler, desired the apothecary to put into it "a sample of everything in the store." The horrified man of drugs poured out a spoonful from each of about fifty Latin-labeled bottles, making about a pint of a compound of the appearance of apple-dumpling gravy. He swallowed the stuff, including dregs, and smacking his lips, declared it went right to the spot. At sundown Ike was well enough to flirt with the beautiful Indian maiden at the encampment, and wasn't certain whether he'd come down to Troy that night or not.

HIVING BEES.—A bee keeper gives the following plan to prevent a swarm of bees from getting far away from the hive, with the statement that after ten years' experience he has never known it to fail once. As soon as they show the first symptoms of swarming, stop up most of the outlets of the hive so as to force them to be a considerable time coming out. The swarm being made up in part of young bees, many of them cannot fly well, and as nothing can be done by the swarm until all are out, they fly about in the air; by prolonging their exit the feeble ones become tired, they alight to rearrange their journey. If they can leave the old hive all at once, they care very little about alighting.

DROPPINGS OF CATTLE.—As a rule droppings of cattle in pastures are not spread. They fertilize a very small space, and the grass grows so rankly that the cattle will not touch it until they are forced by hunger. These little green blotches are noticed in every cow pasture. There is a loss of food for at least two years by this neglect. If the manure were spread every Fall and Spring, as it is in meadows, it would cover a very large space and become immediately available. At least ten times as much surface would feel the effects of the manure, and the grass would all be chopped and returned again to the soil, and made immediately available.

Medicinal Poisons on the Wane.

The patriarchs took no mercury, no bismuth, no iodine, no bromide of potassium, no strychnia, no quinine. Happy old gentlemen! they did not even know of the existence of these "specifics," and yet they lived until it seemed as if Death had forgotten them. Their medicines were herbs and roots. They have left this fact on record, and the world seems now to be taking note of it and returning to the first principles of medication. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the purest and most efficacious vegetable restorative of the day, is also the most popular. Thousands of persons who only a few years ago believed implicitly in all the poisons which figure in the pharmacopia, now pronounce this palatable tonic and alterative an all-sufficient remedy for dyspepsia, nervous debility, constipation, billious complaints, headache, intermittent fevers, and all the ordinary disturbances of the stomach, the liver, the discharging organs and the brain. The time is not far distant when most of the powerful and venomous drugs now so recklessly administered by practitioners of the "heroic" school, in cases that might be easily controlled by milder treatment, will be utterly discarded by all philosophical physicians. As it is, the thinking public, who are generally ahead of the professionals, have already put the dangerous preparations aside and adopted Hostetter's Bitters in their stead as a safe and excellent household medicine, adapted to almost every ailment except the organic and deadly contagious diseases. For more than twenty years this famous restorative and preventive has been annually strengthening its hold upon the public confidence and it now takes the lead of every advertised medicine manufactured in this country.

Fine Perfume is one of the necessities of every-day life, and the variety of preparations that are constantly before the public in no wise lessen the demand. Those, however, prepared by the well known firm of Colgate & Co, seemed destined to carry the palm, having reached a degree of perfection heretofore unknown to both the trade and the public.

Water, Water, everywhere, but not a drop drink also, without a little Williams' Jamaica Ginger.

Peruvian Syrup.—This valuable medicine has been silently making its way into public favor by the numerous remarkable cures it has performed. Its singular efficacy is owing to the protoxide of iron which in this preparation remains unchanged, and is the only form in which this vital element of healthy blood can be supplied.

For Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, in their various forms, FERRO-PHOSPHORATED ELIXIR of CALISAYA made by CASWELL, HAZARD & CO., New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic. As a stimulant tonic for patients recovering from fever or other sickness it has no equal. If taken during the season it prevents fever and ague and other intermittent fevers. a9-4w

LABOR-SAVING MACHINES.—Of the many household labor-saving machines offered from time to time, none are more deserving of public attention and earnest consideration, or that promises such sure and lasting relief to the hard worked washer woman, than the "Ferguson Washer." Simple in construction, easy of management, devoid of machinery, it will not injure a single thread of any fabric, and can be worked by any child twelve years old; will do in a thorough manner, any ordinary family washing in two hours. Possessing these undisputed qualities, the Company in order to prove their integrity in the matter, guarantee entire satisfaction or a return of the purchase money to the buyer.

PIMPLES AND HUMORS ON THE FACE.—In this condition of the skin, the VEGETINE is the great remedy, as it acts directly upon the cause. It cleanses and purifies the blood, thereby causing humors of all kinds to disappear.

Newport Daily News.

GENERAL NEWS.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, August 14. The storm of last night and this morning was of unusual duration, and was accompanied by an incessant down pour of rain. The rain has now abated somewhat, but the east wind holds out, with every indication of continuing. No serious derangement of the mails has been caused. All due yesterday and this morning have been received with one exception, but not with the usual regularity.

NO CASUATIES.

Notwithstanding the unusually large fleet of vessels which arrived to-day and this evening, none report any serious damage from the gale. All the delayed mails arrived at the post office before 9 o'clock to night. The southern mail due at 6:30 this morning reached here at 8:45 to-night, and an extra force of clerks, ordered on duty by Postmaster James, had it all assorted before 10 o'clock.

CUSTOM HOUSE.

Although Assistant Secretary Sawyer was in close consultation several hours with Collector Arthur today, the latter denies receiving any instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury to peremptorily discharge a large number of customs inspectors. An officer of customs, however, is reported as stating to-day that the report had some foundation, as the recent large revenue cases had implicated a number of clerks in dishonest practices. A large number of customs brokers, merchants and goverment inspectors were at the Custom House today making anxious inquiries relative to the report.

GOLD.

Four hundred and ninety-eight thousand dollars in gold was awarded at from 114.67½ to 115.07.

ON THE SOUND.

Up to noon none of the Hell Gate pilots had reached the city. An old pilot who brought a vessel through Hell Gate last night, said he experienced the greatest difficulty in reaching East River, on account of the strong tide and terrible gusts of wind and rain. He reports a large government steamer, bailing from New London in charge of four tugs, anchored off North Brothers Island, unable to proceed.

All the Sandy Hook pilots say the sea beyond the Narrows has not been so rough in a great number of years. No damage to vessels has been reported at Sandy Hook.

An extremely high tide prevails along the East River, but the water did not overflow the docks.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, August 14.—A few additional particulars have been received from the wreck of the Wawasset. The tug Mary Lewis returned last evening, bringing in the bodies of Henry Hazard and David Lynch, both white. The body of Hazard was found fifteen miles from the scene of the disaster. It was in a fair state of preservation and not mutilated by crabs, which have so fearfully shown their activity on the remains of others removed from their watery graves. Owing to the non arrival of Commodore Rose, the government investigation into the cause of the disaster will not commence until tomorrow.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

Gen. Horace Porter and Geo. M. Pullman were in the city yesterday, on business connected with the contemplated increased facilities for travel between Washington and the South.

The new air line between New York and New Orleans will, when the proposed arrangements are completed under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., add much to the prosperity of the national capitol. The entire road from New York to New Orleans will be equipped, in the most superior style, insuring speed, comfort and safety.

PILOTAGE.

The Secretary of the Treasury is considering a proposition to suggest to the next Congress the passage of a law making pilots of steamboats or steamships subject to a federal government license, and requiring them before taking steamers to sea to be satisfied that all the laws relating to life saving apparatus and proper appointments have been fully complied with.

Miscellaneous.

PHILADELPHIA, August 14.—Over seven inches of rain fell here during the storm. Three feet of water is flowing over the Fairmouth Dam. Business at the mills at Manayunk is suspended, the first floors being submerged. A man in this city was drowned while trying to rescue horses from a flooded stable, and a boy was with difficulty rescued from drowning in a street culvert.

LONG BRANCH, August 14.—The storm was terrific all last night, and everything along the beach was carried off, including bathing houses. The bulkhead fronting the New Jersey Southern track, near Camden, was also carried away. No trains on the direct line from Philadelphia arrived today. At noon the violence of the storm had abated.

CLEVELAND, August 15.—The barge J. H. Morton broke away from a tow-boat in the gale last night in the lake and went to pieces. The captain, his wife, child and one seaman were saved, and two seamen lost.

NEW BEDFORD, August 14. A heavy easterly gale and rain storm has prevailed here for several hours. A fishing smack which arrived here early this morning reports it exceedingly rough in the bay. The Vineyard steamers have not made any trips, and [illegible] is somewhat doubtful.

NATICK, Mass., Aug. 14.—Fire broke out this morning in Cochituate street, in the dwelling house, of Michael Walsh, which was entirely destroyed. Loss, $1,500; insured $1,000. A small part of the furniture was saved.

MADRID, Aug. 14.—The crew of the English yacht Deerhound, which was captured while delivering a cargo of arms and ammunition to insurgents at Fuentarabia, will be tried by the government as pirates.

AUGUSTA, Me., August 14.—To day the President rode to Gardiner and called on his old West Point friend Col. Gardiner. On his return he dined with Senator Morrill, of this city. At 5 o'clock p. m. it commenced raining and continued to rain just enough to render out of doors disagreeable, but that circumstance did not appreciably effect the brilliancy of the assemblage at the residence of Speaker Blaine, in the evening. At 9 o'clock the reception commenced, and at 11 the guests still came.

Speaker Blaine received his guests with President Grant, Miss Nellie Grant and Mrs Blaine on his right. There were large numbers of prominent gentlemen, with their ladies from all parts of the State. Among them were Governor Perham and staff and the Executive Council, Senators Hamlin and Morrill, of this State; Hons. Eugene Hale and J. N. Burleigh, members of Congress; Hon. J. H. Bailey of New York and others. The festivities were continued till a late hour.

LONDON, August 14. [Special to the World.] It is stated upon the highest authority that the Count de Chambord has announced his resolution to accept the constitution for France, prepared by the members of the Right of the Assembly and himself, and will rule both by the will of God and the good will of the people. The proclamation of the monarchy will be made in about six weeks.

BERLIN, August 14. The Asiatic cholera is spreading in this city, and the number of fatal cases are daily increasing. The disease is of the most virulent type. The authorities are enforcing the most stringent sanitary measures to prevent it from spreading.

PARIS, August 15.—The Versailles Council has resolved not to convoke the Assembly until the Prussian army of occupation has quitted Verdun.

BALTIMORE, August 14.—A rain storm raged with unexampled fury last night. The streets in various parts of city were submerged, and a large number of cellars were flooded. Jones Falls overflowed, and a portion of the old flooded district was again inundated. The water in some places was four or five feet deep, but in no instance reaching above the first floors of dwellings. The utmost consternation prevailed for a time among the dwellers in Harrison and adjacent streets.

About 1 o'clock this morning, the waters subsided.

ACCIDENT.

In consequence of the bursting of a portion of the Hartfort tunnel, between twelve and one o'clock this morning, the dividing walls of two dwellings on Bond street gave way, causing the destruction of two back buildings. All the kitchen and dining room furniture was precipitated into the stream. The inmates barely escaped with their lives.

CHICAGO, August 14.—The following letter from John Crowley, a resident of Springfield, Ill., to a gentleman in this city is published.

Dear Sir—I see there is an Englishman, a Mr. Whalley, member of Parliament, arrived in New York for the purpose of collecting money in the Tichborne case in England. I want you please to find out by some means where this Whalley is stopping in New York, and then to write to him and tell him that he can get more information from me about Tichborne than he can get in all England, if he wants it. Please don't neglect attending to this at once.

The gentleman to whom the letter is addressed, says Crowley is a veterinary surgeon of large practice, and more than ordinary intelligence; is in every way considered to be trustworthy, and his word is reliable. He is quite sure he can either prove or disprove the identity of the claimant with Sir Roger Tichborne, because of his personal knowledge of the original and genuine Sir Roger. At the the time that Sir Roger was stationed with his regiment at Cahir barracks Crowley's mother kept the hotel at Clogher, Ireland, which was the resort of Sir Roger and his intimate friends. Crowley was then a young man given to field sports, and studying to qualify himself for the profession of veterinary surgeon. Sir Roger was a very poor horseman, and he employed Crowley to give him instruction. They were much together, boon companions, day and night, and there is little doubt that if any one can identify another, then Crowley will be able to say whether the claimant is or is not the genuine Sir Roger.

BANGOR, Me., Aug. 14.—The Liberal Republican Mass Convention met in this city and organized this forenoon by the choice of Hebron Luse, as chairman, and Mark Baker for Secretary. A committee on business was appointed, and the convention adjourned till afternoon.

A full list of county officers were nominated and a committee selected to carry out purposes for which the convention was called. The principal feature of the platform adopted was a denunciation of the salary grab.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 14.—About 5 o'clock this morning, an engine attached to a coal oil train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, ran off into a pond near Mifflin, twenty-sixth Ward. The engine was badly damaged, and the coal oil coming in contact with the fire in the boiler, set fire to the train, and before the flames could be extinguished eleven cars were totally burned. Isaac Willis, engineer, jumped from the engine as the train was about running off the track, and was badly hurt. The body of Robert Black, fireman, was found dead in the pond, under the locomotive. It was badly charred, but it is thought his death resulted from drowning. The loss in oil will amount at least to $11,000, and probably more, but at present it cannot be ascertained.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 15, 1873.

HOW TO FIT COLLARS TO HORSES' SHOULDERS.—It is very important to have a collar fit nicely and snugly to the shoulders of the horse. It enables him to work with a great deal more ease, and to apply a great deal more strength. It prevents galling and wounding, as the friction is avoided. Collars are so made, or should be so made, as to throw the chief force on the lower part of the shoulder. The horse can apply but little strength on the upper part; and for this reason breast collars are coming greatly into vogue, as the strength is exerted on the lower part of the shoulder. But we started out to tell our readers how to make a new collar fit the shoulder of the horse. The collar should be purchased of the proper size. Just before putting it on the first time, immerse it in water, letting it remain about a minute, and immediately put it on the horse, being careful to have the hames so adjusted at the top and bottom as to fit the shoulder, and then put the horse to work. The collar, by being wet, will adapt itself to the shoulder, and should dry on the horse. When taken off, it should be left in the shape it occupied on the horse; and ever after you will have a snug fitting collar and no wounds.

A lecture was recently delivered on the "Law of Storms," by Dr. William F. Thoms at the New York Nautical School. The lecturer pointed out how the approach of storms was denoted by the appearance of the sky and clouds, but more especially by the never failing admonitions of the barometer, which forewarns the navigator from twelve to forty-eight hours before the verge of the storm reaches the ship. When the barometer falls to 29.50 inches the ship is in the verge of the storm circle, and the focus is then about 150 miles distant. At 100 miles from the focus the barometer falls to 29.50 and when it comes down to 27.40 the focus of the storm circle is within fifty miles of the ship. Should the vessel come within thirty miles of the focus the barometer would sink to 28 inches, while at or near the focus it will stand as low as 27 inches. The focus of these storms, he said, could be easily ascertained. By turning your back to the wind in north latitude the left hand will point to the centre of the hurricane, and in southern latitude, by the same rule, the right hand would indicate the focus. By "governing himself accordingly," the wary mariner saves his ship.

TO DESTROY MOLES.—Shooting them is recommended by one who has tried it as follows: "Be out early in the morning with the gun when they are busy rooting, steal quietly to the place (up wind), get the gun almost perpendicular over them muzzle about a foot or a foot and a half from the ground, consistent with safety—watch until they commence to root, then "blaze away." Dig down afterward, ten to one the mole is there, as dead as a herring, although he has been six or eight inches below the surface."

Diamond Spectacles.

THESE SPECTACLES are manufactured from "MINUTE CRYSTAL PEBBLES" melted together, and are called Diamond on account of their hardness and brilliancy. It is well known that spectacles cut from Brazilian or Scotch pebbles are very injurious to the eye, because of their polarizing light. Having been tested with the polariscope, the diamond lenses have been found to admit fifteen per cent. less heated rays than any other pebble. They are ground with great scientific accuracy, are free from chromatic aberrations, and produce a brightness and distinctness of vision not before attained in spectacles.

Manufactured by the Spencer Optical Manufacturing Company, New York. For sale by responsible agents in every city in the Union. H. A. HEATH & CO., Jewelers and Opticians, are sole Agents for Newport, R. I.,—from whom they can only be obtained. No peddlers employed. Do not buy any unless you see the trade mark.

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c., &c.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS'

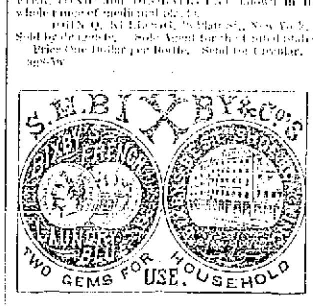

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED organs.

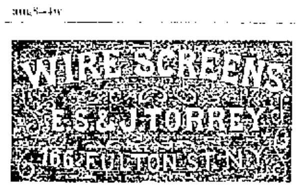

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the best PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medical plants.

Iron in the Blood

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhea, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

Medical.

NOTICE.

A prominent New York physician lately complained to DUNDAS DICK, about his SANDALWOOD OIL CAPSULES, stating that sometimes they cured miraculously, but that a patient of his had taken them without effect. On being informed that several imitations were sold, he inquired and found his patient had not taken DUNDAS DICK & CO'S.

What happened to this physician may have happened to others, and DUNDAS DICK & CO. take this method of protecting physicians, druggists and themselves, and preventing OIL OF SANDALWOOD from coming into disrepute.

PHYSICIANS who once prescribe the Capsules will continue to do so, for they contain the pure oil in the best and cheapest form.

DUNDAS DICK & CO. use more Oil of Sandalwood than all the Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Perfumers in the U. S. combined, and this is the sole reason why the pure oil is cheaper in their Capsules than in any other form.

OIL OF SANDALWOOD is fast superseding every other remedy, sixty Capsules only being required to insure a safe and certain cure in six or eight days. From no other medicine can this result be had.

DUNDAS DICK & CO'S Soft Capsules solve the problem, long considered by eminent physicians, of how to avoid the nausea and disgust experienced in swallowing, which are well known to detract from, if not destroy, the good effects of many valuable remedies.

Soft Capsules are put up in tin-foil and neat boxes, thirty in each, and are the only Capsules prescribed by Physicians.

TASTELESS MEDICINES.—Castor Oil and many other nauseous medicines can be taken easily and safely in DUNDAS DICK & CO'S SOFT CAPSULES. No Taste. No Smell.

These were the only Capsules admitted to the last Paris Exposition.
